Additional Comments :

1. Ten days prior to the thesis defense, the graduate student who has changed an advisor should submit one copy of his or her thesis to the former thesis advisor through the department office. If there is any controversy related to the Graduate Student's Declaration, the former advisor should appeal to the department five days prior to the thesis defense. After the appeal is made, the thesis defense should be put on hold. The department should convene meetings to give a ruling within a month.
2. If any graduate student changes his or her thesis advisor without following the principles, NCU will not recognize the graduate student's grade for the thesis defense.
